

Image by Ravex Systems ©

Home Depot

Ravex Systems was the primary electrical contractor at the Glastonbury Home Depot, where the site shut down before the new switchboard installation. Ravex Systems replaced the feed conductors that were connected from the existing transformer to the new switchboard, where the new electrical feeders between the electrical server and new switchboard were coupled together. Ravex Systems planned shutdown times with the electricity supplier and completed the new switchboard installation per Home Depot's requirements.

Ravex Systems, Inc.
132 Scott Swamp Rd., Farmington, CT 06032
860.470.3200 | ravexsystems.com

Market:

Retail

Date:

2018

Location:

Glastonbury, CT